“Love is what remains when all other emotions are gone.”

Baval Ravikant

A change of thinking on this issue. Love - as in HOW TO BE LOVE(D), a book by Humble the Poet (aka Kanwer Singh), a Canadian-born artist, rapper, spoken-word poet and author

The book is the work of questions and a questioner, Love, he says: “If we dig to the root reason of why we do anything in our lives, IT’S BECAUSE OF LOVE (capitals, mine).”

Of his book, he says, “This book wasn’t a labour OF love, but a reminder that it is a labour TO love.”

“WTF is Love”

He replies. “Forgetting that we are the source of love has us looking everywhere but the place where love is experienced the most, within.” Do we ask, are we worthy of, deserve and are enough to be loved? He says, “Love doesn’t have to be earned or found, it just has to be realised.”
