

Brazilian cats in turmoil

Brazillian cats are in turmoil. They cannot agree. They are divided by a question; the question that demands an answer. They huddle in groups and discuss; the answer eludes them.

The question: Is "brazillian" a word?. What does it apply to? Is it a number (followed by many 0)? How are we to know? How can we agree?

"How many Brazillian cats are there in bra-zillion?"
